Hiram City Manager Steps Down

Hiram, Georgia – September 2, 2015 – Hiram’s first city manager, Robbie Rokovitz, submitted his resignation to the Mayor and Council last evening. His resignation is effective September 25th in compliance with the notice requirements in his contract.

In his resignation letter dated September 1, 2015, Rokovitz stated that he was “given a conditional offer to embark on a new journey in the private sector that presents some significant opportunities for personal and professional growth.” He also stated that he will work with the City Council and staff to make sure the transition is smooth and seamless and assist in whatever direction the Council chooses to take.

Rokovitz also wanted to express his appreciation to the Hiram staff and further stated, “It has been an honor and pleasure to work with such a high caliber of professionals who have always exhibited unwavering dedication to their mission to serve Hiram.”

At this time, there has been no official decision on addressing the impending vacancy. According to the City Charter, “Upon removal or vacancy or prior to the time the city council appoints a city manager upon absence or disability, the city council shall appoint a temporary city manager by majority vote of its members.”
